

MENTEE

Cindy Ross

LinkedIn Profile

Project: Personal Portfolio Website

For my website, I used Figma for wire-framing and prototyping my designs and I learned HTML/CSS for the development. For my branding I used Adobe Illustrator and Photoshop.

Next Steps for Cindy:

I would like to revisit parts of my code to make my website more responsive. I will also be doing an internship program this summer with "New Relic" as a product designer. 😊

MENTOR

Julie West

LinkedIn Profile

A screenshot of Cindy Ross's LinkedIn profile page. It features a decorative background of colorful abstract shapes. Her name, "Cindy Ross", is at the top. Below it is a short bio: "I'm a student at UC Davis studying cognitive science with a focus in computer science and passion for design. I like to solve problems, understand human behavior, and create meaningful experiences along the way." A "LinkedIn" button is visible.

Skills

A section titled "Skills" featuring four icons: "Print, binding &amp; graphic design" (illustrated with a printer), "Technical capabilities" (illustrated with a laptop), "Project management" (illustrated with a person working on a laptop), and "User research" (illustrated with a person looking at a screen).

My Work

A grid of four project cards:

- Building a website for a non-profit LGBTQ+ organization in Botswana
Out in Tech University - America
In the span of one day, I participated in a team of three volunteers to build, design, and launch a website for a non-profit LGBTQ+ organization in Botswana.
Read process
- Designing and Developing a website using Adobe, Figma, and CSS/HTML
Out in Tech University - America
Over the course of eight weeks, I established my personal branding identity and developed my portfolio website alongside an external mentor.
Read process
- Creating marketing materials and designing visuals for a leadership conference
Gator Leadership Conference - Graphic Design & Marketing Intern
Over the course of a few months, I worked as the visual designer with the Center's directors to design the Aggies Leading the Way Annual conference visual identity.
Read process
- I'm Cindy Ross.
UX/UI Designer/researcher, graphic designer and WORK LinkedIn GitHub